Call to do more for town's youth

SEATON town councilors have been urged to do more for the youth of the town – and not to allow the resort to become “God’s waiting room!”

An impassioned plea for the town council to do more for the youth of Seaton was made at last week’s meeting by Councillor Tony Woodman, who called for the setting up of a working party to consult with the town’s young people.

Councillor Woodman said he was raising the matter due to the imminent closure of The Grove nightclub – “the last remaining entertainment centre for the young people of our town”.

Councillor Woodman told the meeting: “Much is organised in Seaton for children and the older generation but it seems to me the youth of this town have had a raw deal for many years, particularly since the loss of their youth club. Quite simply unless they are sport minded there is basically nothing for them to do.

“I have taken time to speak to many youngsters in recent weeks about the closure of The Grove and have asked them what they will do. Although a few said they didn’t know a vast majority said they would go to local pubs on Friday and Saturday nights and then end up out on the town streets.

“That has to be a cause for concern and I’m sure not a message the police will want to hear. But it’s a fact.

“It is obvious that as a council we can’t open a nightclub, but I believe there is much we can do to help our young people. We could, for example, try and find a suitable venue for such a club and then promote it to try and get someone to run it.

“We could also make a commitment to the youth of Seaton that we will replace their youth club with something that will serve them now and in future generations. I believe we owe them that at least when millions are being spent on a discovery centre that basically won’t benefit them at all.”

Councillor Woodman recalled that a young man stood up at the annual meeting and spoke well about how all his friends were leaving the town through lack of employment and housing.

“We have to do something to stem that flow,” he continued.

“These young people are the future of our town unless we want to become God’s waiting room.

“Having no entertainment can also make that situation worse and it is equally bad for the town’s image with visitors when they get here to find there is nothing for young people.”

Councillor Woodman suggested the setting up of a Crime down

THE young people of Seaton are a credit to the town.

That’s the view of Seaton’s Neighbourhood Police Manager, PC Steve Speariett, who has reported fewer anti-social behaviour incidents in the town during the summer months.

In his regular crime report to Seaton Town Council, PC Speariett said – compared to last August – crime in Seaton had fallen by 20 per cent.

PC Speariett told last week’s council meeting: “Crime has reduced from last month and is well below the long term average of 29 crimes.

“What is also pleasing is that we have not seen many incidents of anti-social behaviour during the summer holiday.

“The Neighbourhood team would like to pass on our thanks to the young people of Seaton who are a credit to the town.”

PC Speariett said they had, however, received a small number of complaints of anti-social driving and the team would be targeting this area over the coming months.

The 16 crimes reported in August included two cases of possession of cannabis and one of drink driving in which a 25 year-old local woman was arrested and subsequently charged after she crashed her vehicle in Durlay Road.

Beer strikes gold

AFTER last year’s silver medal, Beer is celebrating a double victory at this year’s South West Britain in Bloom Awards. Not only have they won gold but they’ve also been awarded the Cox Cup for the best village. Ursula Makepeace is pictured outside the Mariners’ Hall with the cup

Tigers appoint new managers

KEITH Somers and Pete Knox have been appointed as the new joint first-team managers at South-West Peninsula League Division one side Axminster Town.

A statement on the South-West Peninsula League website forum read: "We (ATFC) are delighted to announce the club has appointed Peter Knox and Keith Somers as our new management team."

"Pete has a wealth of playing experience having turned out for; Alfreton Town, Gainsborough Trinity, Eastwood Town, Harrogate Town, Work-sop Town, Merthyr Tydfil, Taunton Town and Bridgwater Town. This is his first step into management."

"Keith played for Colyton and Beer Albion. He has managed Colyton and Seaton Town and has for the past four years been one of Exeter City's Advanced Development Centre Managers working with the Academy."

AXMINSTER

Public meeting to save hospital beds

AXMINSTER Hospital League of Friends (LoF) has issued a rallying cry and called a public meeting in a bid to reverse the in-patient bed closure proposal for Axminster Hospital.

Last Thursday's NHS Northern Eastern and Western Devon Clinical Commissioning Group (NEW CCG) announcement confirmed fears that Axminster Hospital in-beds were on a hit list.

Axminster Hospital LoF's offer to NEW CCG of up to £300,000 over three years to keep the in-patient beds open did not have the desired effect and has not been met with an official response.

But the League of Friends has not given up.

After Thursday's announcement, they called an emergency meeting the following day when it was decided to hold a public meeting at 4pm on Saturday, October 4th in Axminster Guildhall to which all are invited.

LoF member Mervyn Symes said the public meeting had been called to discuss the best way forward to retain the in-patient beds.

He explained: "We need the input of the community, and the support of the community."

"We are trying to convince NEW CCG they made the wrong decision."

When asked why it had not accepted the LoF offer, a NEW CCG spokesperson said: "We can confirm that we have received a letter which we believe is from Axminster [Hospital] League of Friends."

"Unfortunately, the letter is unsigned so we just need to establish who it has come from before we can receive it as official feedback."

"The purpose of this 12-week period of involvement and consultation is to hear proposals, so we welcome all feedback."

The statement indicates that the LoF offer may not have been flatly refused, and could possibly have some bearing on the final decision.

SO the fight is on to save the in-patient beds at Axminster and Ottery St Mary hospitals. Axminster knew what was coming (all ten beds to close) but it came as a real shock to Ottery where it was expected that some beds would remain.

I understand that in the end it was a straight fight between Seaton and Axminster. Health officials finally came down on the side of Seaton because it has more elderly people than Axminster.

The offer from Axminster Hospital League of Friends to provide £300,000 over three years to keep their wards open has not been met with an official response, other than the rather pathetic excuse that the letter from the League of Friends was unsigned.

The League of Friends called an emergency meeting on Friday morning and decided to hold a public meeting on Saturday, October 4th to which NHS officials will be invited to explain why Axminster was singled out for the closure of all in-patient beds.

Public bodies are duty bound these days to consult with residents but the fear is that the NHS officials will just be going through the motions and that the decision has been made.

Axminster Mayor Jeremy Walden hopes this is not the case. He fired off a two-page letter to the NHS last week pointing out that they should have taken into consideration the rapid expansion that Axminster faces in years to come.

The medical profession in Axminster fear that once the beds are closed they will never re-open and that other facilities at the hospital, such as the X-ray department, could follow suit.

One thing is for sure: the NHS officials who attend the public meeting on October 4th will not get an easy ride.

♦ YOU rarely get something for nothing in this day and age - unless, of course, you are part of the Christian community in Seaton.

On Saturday I was invited to the re-opening of the Freedom Café in Seaton, which throws its doors open on the third Saturday morning of every month to all and sundry.

Now in its fifth year, the Freedom Café has been closed since April for the refurbishment of St Gregory's Church hall, which included a new kitchen and roof, which cost £150,000.

The café was officially reopened by the Mayor, Councillor Gaynor Sedgwick, on Saturday and for the rest of the morning no fewer than 474 enjoyed free food and comradeship.

Actually, you don't have to be a Christian to take advantage of this wonderful facility; it's open to all.

As well as providing free food, the Freedom Café since its inception has donated, £2,500 to local good causes. In all they have 60 volunteers, many from the Christian community in Seaton, and other volunteers.

The idea is to bring people together. It doesn't matter who you are - a warm welcome awaits all at the Freedom Café.

It was a very happy occasion. Seaton at its best.

Plea to do more for town's youth

SEATON town councilors have been urged to do more for the youth of the town - and not to allow the resort to become "God's waiting room!"

An impassioned plea for the town council to do more for the youth of Seaton was made at last week's meeting by Councillor Tony Woodman, who called for the setting up of a working party to consult with the town's young people.

Councillor Woodman said he was raising the matter due to the imminent closure of The Grove nightclub - "the last remaining entertainment centre for the young people of our town".

Councillor Woodman told the meeting: "Much is organised in Seaton for children and the older generation but it seems to me the youth of this town have had a raw deal for many years, particularly since the loss of their youth club. Quite

"Having no entertainment can also make that situation worse and it is equally bad for the town's image with visitors when they get here to find there is nothing for young people."

And he concluded: "We have to listen to our young people or ignore them at our peril. They are the future of Seaton."

SIDMOUTH

Hospital to lose minor injuries unit

SIDMOUTH Victoria Hospital is set to lose its minor injuries unit, under the latest NHS proposals for the future of community care in the town.

The Northern Eastern and Western Devon Clinical Commissioning Group (NEW Devon CCG), which oversees health care provision in the area, unveiled its plans on Wednesday for the future of community services across the Wakley sub-locality's five hospitals.

The cost-cutting measures are designed to maximise efficiency across the area, with hospitals in Axminster, Seaton, Honiton and Ottery St Mary also affected.

All in-patient beds at Sidmouth will remain in place and some will be reallocated to the hospital in the short term.

But the minor injuries unit, along with the emergency facility at Ottery, will be cut, leaving Honiton as the locality's only remaining unit.

But the CCG has also indicated its intentions to reduce the number of beds across all the hospitals in the long-term, as it moves closer towards a 'hospital at home' model.

The plans are now open to a 12-week consultation period.

OTTERY St MARY

'Horried' by beds closure

ALL in-patient beds and the minor injuries unit at Ottery St Mary Hospital are set to be closed, confirming residents' worst fears about the future of community care in the town.

The Northern Eastern and Western Devon Clinical Commissioning Group (NEW Devon CCG) unveiled its proposals for community services across the Wakley sub-locality's five hospitals on Wednesday.

If the plans are approved later this autumn, Ottery will also lose its in-patient beds and minor injuries unit, with services focused on the CCG's remaining hospitals in Honiton, Seaton and Sidmouth.

Devon County Councillor for Ottery Claire Wright, who is also a member of the council's health and wellbeing scrutiny committee, said she was "horried" by the plans.

She added: "I had assumed there would be some proposals for bed losses but am horrified that all that Ottery will have left is an empty building, with a vague promise of it becoming a health and wellbeing 'hub'."

There has been widespread concern about what services will continue to be provided at Ottery Hospital, as the CCG moves further towards its 'hospital at home' model.

Heights resubmit planning application

LYME Bay Leisure has had to re-submit a planning application for its hotel and holiday complex at Seaton Heights.

A revised planning application for a 12-bedroom hotel, 38 units of holiday accommodation, a restaurant, a leisure club and other amenities was approved this spring after a long battle with several stumbling blocks.

But there were more stumbling blocks, and only a few weeks ago the company described progress as being at a "snail's pace".

In a further update, issued on September 17th, the company said: "After several months of delay, Lyme Bay Leisure has re-submitted the planning application."

"The revised planning application report is out for public consultation, yet again, and is due to return to East Devon District Council planners for a decision on October 1st. The earlier application was stalled because of a raft of issues to do with bat conservation and the protection and maintenance of their traditional flyways across the derelict site of the old Seaton Heights Hotel.

"Following the advice of ecologists and bat conservationists, Lyme Bay Leisure undertook an extensive landscaping and re-design with appropriate management measures to be introduced that safeguard the future in perpetuity of several rare species of bats."

"Following the planning meeting Lyme Bay Leisure is determined to start construction within the next few months before the winter gets underway."

Lyme Bay Leisure chairman David Sullivan said: "The project is now significantly delayed."

"This has proven hugely costly to us but it is hoped that EDDC will at last give their approval and we can start to make headway in delivering this project that all Seaton residents have been hugely supportive of."

Once planning consent is given, construction could be completed over an 18-month period.

Phase one, the hotel, restaurant and spa could be completed within 12 months, the company says.

MD James Hetherington added: "Following discussions with our project management and building contractors, we hope to announce a start date quite soon."

"We are frustrated like everyone else with the hold-ups but we are as committed as ever to bring this project to Seaton and be part of the town's regeneration."

Beer scoops top Bloom award

BEER is this week celebrating a notable double victory in the annual South West Britain in Bloom Awards.

Competing against five others in the village category – the categories comprised small village, village and large village – Beer not only won gold but was also awarded the Cox Cup for the best village.

"I am just totally over the moon," said Ursula Makepeace, who is chairwoman of the Beer Horticultural Society and led the campaign.

"This is the first time we have ever won the Cox Cup, which was introduced in 1977 so that is brilliant. I have also been given a big flag to put up somewhere in the village. It was a lot of hard work by a lot of people and I had a lot of support."

The judges praised Beer's floral displays, which comprised 50 per cent of the total marks, as 'outstanding' while the level of community participation was described as 'good' and the environment 'satisfactory'.

The village also received four RHS It's Your Neighbourhood Awards for the outstanding appearance of Beer Brook, St Michael's Church, Charlie's Yard and the Beer War Memorial.

The gold certificate, cup and other awards are a just reward for Ursula, who has been involved in promoting the appearance of Beer for almost 30 years and almost quit last year after the bitter disappointment of failing to win the competition.

But her persistence and dedication have been rewarded as in addition to the recognition of Beer she also received a special award.

"I was fifty-fifty before the awards at Trowbridge Civic Centre on Thursday as I have been disappointed on many occasions in the past," added Ursula.

"Beer has won the gold certificate in the past but it was not as important as now, as the regime has become far more demanding so this feels very special."

"In addition I was very proud when the judges read out my name as the winner of the Community Champion award, which has only ever been won by three other people in the South West. It was a great day."

Environment Agency to block sculptures

THE Environment Agency is set to block East Devon District Council's (EDDC) planned erection of sculpture waves and interpretive pillars at Fisherman's Gap. As reported last week, the proposal is a controversial one.

Seaton Town Council backs the idea, but two town councillors – Val Christmas and Tony Woodman – requested that their votes against be recorded. The latter went as far as saying the proposed constructions would look like something from Disneyland.

The proposal is part of a wider 'hot spot' scheme for key entry points to Seaton and the Jurassic Coast.

EDDC has submitted a planning application but suffered a setback when the Environment Agency formally opposed the idea.

A letter, dated September 18th, to EDDC from the Environment Agency said: "We object to this proposal for the following reasons."

"The proposed sculptures are located on land that forms part of the Seaton Coastal Defence Scheme; a flood alleviation scheme that is operated and maintained by the Environment Agency."

"The proposed sculptures and interpretation pillar appear to be located in a manner that would: a) prevent the closure of the main flood gates that facilitate vehicular access through the sea wall, and, b) would restrict our access to the flood wall for necessary inspection, repair and maintenance purposes."

"It is also important that the applicant notes that any structures such as those proposed within seven metres of such coastal flood defences will require our Flood Defence consent under the terms of the Water Resources Act 1991."

"We will withhold our consent for any structures that would restrict our ability to safely access, operate, maintain and rebuild such a structure."

An EDDC spokesperson said: "We are working with the Environment Agency to address their concerns about the exact location of the hot spot."

"Of course public safety with regards to flood defence is always our priority and we will therefore be considering how we can overcome any such concerns. We are committed to the hot spots as a way of extending the reach of Seaton Jurassic to the seafront and encouraging visitors to see for themselves our amazing beach and coastline."

Full details of the proposal and how to comment are available on EDDC's website at www.eastdevon.gov.uk via the planning portal (planning ref 14/1897).

Help town's youth

small working party of two or three interested councillors who could talk to youngsters and come back with a report on what they wanted and what was feasible.

"It won't happen overnight but I believe it would be a task well worth undertaking to show we do actually care about our young people and they are not ignored," he said. "Done now we could prepare the groundwork for action when a new council takes over next year."

And he concluded: "We have to listen to our young people or ignore them at our peril. They are the future of Seaton, they deserve our respect and I believe we should invest in them. Let us be the council that listens and acts for our teenagers. We must do all we can to help them and I commend the motion to council."

The council agreed to set up a working party consisting of Councillors Woodman, Peter Burrows and Mark Fisher.

Probus members travel by steam

ON A beautiful autumn day, a group from the Seaton & District Men's Probus Club enjoyed an outing which encompassed various means of transport - a coach trip to Paignton, a steam train to Kingswear, a ferry across to Dartmouth and then a wonderfully scenic trip up the River Dart on the paddle steamer

'Kingswear Castle'.

There was time to briefly enjoy the delights of Dartmouth before making the return trip to Seaton. The 'Kingswear Castle' is the last remaining coal-fired paddle steamer in operation in the UK today. She was built by Philip & Son of Dartmouth 90 years ago - in her heyday she carried almost 500 passengers and was the lifeblood of the River Dart.

The chief officer of the 'Kingswear Castle' gave an eloquent and amusing commentary which added to the enjoyment of the cruise. As well as describing the interesting, and costly, homes along the riverside he also pointed out the many oyster beds and the wildlife that lives in the wonderful habitat that borders the river.

The trip was a prelude to the first meeting of the 2014-2015 programme which will be held on Wednesday, October 1st, when Selwyn Williams will be speaking on 'local wrecks'.

Meetings, which commence at 10am, are held at St Gregory's Church Centre, Colyford Road, Seaton.

As well as the fortnightly meetings, members also enjoy coffee get-togethers and informal dining out in Seaton.

The club for retired or semi-retired professional men welcomes new members and Keith West on 01297 624374 will be pleased to provide further information.

Bowls teach-in for Catenians

FOLLOWING the very successful croquet teach-in, Axminster Catenian Bob Turpin invited local society members for an indoor bowls teach-in at Cloakham Lawn Sports Centre, coffee kindly provided by Sue Turpin. One or two members were declared 'promising'

'Disorder' author

LOCAL writer Paddy Magrane will be signing copies of his bestselling psychological thriller - Disorder - at Miller's Farm Shop in Kilmington, on Saturday September 27th from 10am.

Disorder tells the story of a psychotherapist fighting for his life to discover the truth after his client, a cabinet minister, is found dead. The book has received rave reviews since its publication in May. It was described as 'stonkingly good' by e-thriller.com while crimebookclub.co.uk called it 'a nerve twisting thriller that will delight readers who enjoyed The Ghost by Robert Harris'.

Big coffee morning

HAWKCHURCH Village Hall is set to take part in Macmillan World's Biggest Coffee Morning on Friday September 26th, starting at 10am for coffee and goodies.

The annual event has been going for ten years and is organised by Maggie Stead. There will be stalls and a raffle, with many prizes already donated by local companies and individuals.

Whistlestop tour of Italy

■ ACTING as president for the meeting, Jan Probert welcomed everyone, after the summer break, to the September meeting of Seaton WI.

Jerusalem was then sung accompanied by Mary Fone. Jan then discussed coming events - a group meeting at Colyford, a quiz night in Beer, a trip to Salisbury and the opportunity to attend a course at Denman College with the Devon federation.

A competition to choose who should make chocolate chip cookies for the group meeting was won by Val Rutter. After tea and the remaining cookies, Wendy Hall gave us an interesting whistlestop tour from a bird's eye view of Mount Vesuvius, around the Sorrento peninsula and Amalfi coast, showing all the different styles of architecture in the churches and the art and culture of the region.

The vote of thanks was given by Aimee Guard. Flower of the month and the competition was won by Denise England.

The next meeting will be on Tuesday, October 21st.

■ THE September meeting of the Honiton Afternoon WI was very pleased to welcome Josephine Nicoletti as their guest speaker.

It was a very entertaining afternoon with Jo explaining how she first became involved in the beautiful craftwork of pressed flowers. She had many adventures to relate of her early years of trying to make a living with this craft.

Eventually she became very successful and spent a great deal of time working in France. She later returned to the UK and spent some time living in the Dartmouth area.

Members were very interested to see a display of her work which included scrapbooks, pictures, cards and various other items. To complete a very enjoyable afternoon every member was given a pressed flower bookmark as a memento of her visit. A vote of thanks was given by the president, Maureen Doidge.

The next meeting will be on the October 13th, at 2pm, in the Methodist Chapel, when the speaker will be from the WESC Foundation (The Specialist Centre for Visual Impairment), Exeter. The talk will be entitled "Who we are, what we do, projects and events this year". Visitors are always very welcome to attend.

Exhibition success for art society

HONITON Art Society's successful 50th exhibition ended last week.

Although visitor numbers were slightly down, those that attended gave very favourable comments on the high standard of work on show, which was reflected in some very good sales. The public's choice for favourite exhibit was Janice Barrett's watercolour painting - The Tree.

The first autumn meeting of the society will take place on Monday, October 13th in Awliscombe Village Hall, from 2pm to 4pm, when Robin Gray will be demonstrating painting caves in oil pastel.

All are welcome, the entrance fee for visitors is £2.

Felled tree was not diseased, says developer

A FELLED tree wasn't diseased after all, according to housing developer Bovis Homes.

As reported last week, a tree outside the Bovis Homes Cloakham Lawn showhome in Chard Road was felled.

Many people wondered why, some suggesting it was taken down simply to offer a clearer view of the showhome.

Devon County Council, on whose land the tree was, said it suffered from Dutch Elm Disease.

But Bovis Homes has since offered another explanation.

A spokesperson for the company said: "The elm tree has been coppiced and seven branches of another tree have been cut back to prevent damage during the construction of the approved cycleway and footway,

■ WORK in the Chard Road tree as reported in last week's *Pulman's View and also the installation of the new water connection into the development.

"The elm has been coppiced in the past and this is a rotational management process allowing trees to regenerate.

"The work at Cloakham Lawn has been done in full consultation with East Devon District Council and Devon County Council (the trees are located on county council land) and was certainly not undertaken to improve the views of our recently opened three-bedroom show home.

"Protecting and enhancing the environment at Cloakham Lawn is a key part of delivering our new homes there, with ecological specialists introducing a number of features to the development such as habitat boxes for bats and birds, including specially modified ones for owls."

Back in the 'real world' again after revolutionary eye implant

AN Axminster man is one of the first people in the world to have a revolutionary eye lens implant.

Retired property developer and keen gardener Ronald Cooper lost sight of his garden because of rapidly failing eyesight - but has rediscovered his flowers thanks to the procedure.

Ronald, aged 90, was dismayed to be diagnosed with progressive eye condition Age-related Macular Degeneration (AMD), which eventually leads to loss of sight. Surgery for AMD was rarely offered because of the risks involved.

But the situation changed when Bobby Qureshi, chief medical officer and founder of the London Eye Hospital Pharma joined forces with professor Pablo Artal - the first-ever European winner of the prestigious Edward H Land Award for scientific contributions to the advancement of visual optics.

Together they came up with a low-risk, simple procedure and what is known as the iolAMD lens.

Ronald, who is married with three children, said: "I first noticed my vision deteriorating about ten years ago, and was diagnosed with AMD.

"At the time it was suggested that I should register as partially sighted, which I didn't feel ready to do. I could still, at that time, see to do most things.

"Two years ago, my vision had deteriorated to such an extent that I began to avoid social situations as I could never tell if someone was looking at me trying to get my attention.

"I found that very hard. I began having injections for the AMD, but they weren't making my vision better; they were perhaps, at most, stopping it from getting worse. "I have one and a half acres of garden and have always been an active gardener, but I found that although I could see the shapes of plants and flowers, I was unable to see their true beauty.

"My son found an article about London Eye Hospital but, me being a cynic, it took him some time to persuade me to contact them."

"I did eventually contact the London Eye Hospital and met with Bobby Qureshi, who suggested the iolAMD implant. I went ahead and had the operation, which was a very simple and quick procedure.

"I have now had both eyes done, and my vision just keeps improving. I can finally enjoy my garden again; I can see the small birds, the details in flowers, and the sun shining through the branches of my 100-foot tulip tree.

"Better than that, I have two demonstrably affectionate grandchildren, aged four and seven, whose faces I see at close quarters; the smile on their faces and the sparkle in their eyes. I now feel I am again living in the same world as everybody else."

Mr Qureshi said: "Ronald overcame his reluctance and made an appointment to see us, and we are delighted that he did.

"It transpired that he was the perfect candidate for the iolAMD lens, and we are incredibly pleased that the implants have improved his life and helped him get back to his former self, and back to his garden.

"The implant is a giant leap in optical technology, and it is immeasurably satisfying to have had a role in creating a solution which will benefit such a wide range of people for whom, at the moment, there is no treatment."

Ronald (pictured below) concluded: "I am delighted to have got the benefit I have from the implants; my day-to-day visual ability has improved greatly.

"At times, I have been astonished at the things I can do which I was unable to do before, for example reading the writing on packets etc.

"I am so much more aware of what is going on around me, and my quality of life has improved hugely."

The implant is a mini-version of the telescope and involves inserting two tiny lenses into the eye 2mm apart.

It is expected to help more than 600,000 sufferers of age-related macular degeneration in the UK alone.

Town crier is county champion

SEATON Town Crier, David Craner is now the undisputed Devon County Town Crying Champion for 2014-2015.

At a recent contest in Newton Abbot David, who refers to himself as 'Sir Walter Raleigh Re-incarnated', battled it out with 18 criers from the length and breadth of the country who together with their costumed escorts made a very colourful spectacle in the town.

The competition comprised two rounds, the first being a home town cry where the criers tell all about their towns and why others should visit.

David's cry finished with the verse: "And now I leave you with many good thoughts, About my town which cannot be beaten, So please pay a visit whenever you can, There's always a welcome in Seaton".

The second round was a free choice with cries on any subject of the criers choosing and which David chose to cry about growing old.

The criers are marked on various criteria such as sustained volume, clarity, diction and inflection.

Despite fierce competition, Mr Craner was awarded the title of Devon County Champion for 2014. He also walked away with trophies for first place in the best dressed Crier, and third place in the rounds.

David said: "I was proud to represent Seaton in a town crying competition.

"It was just my luck that I was drawn number one, the position least liked by most criers, but when the results came in I was completely dumbstruck,

"I could have cried with joy. Now I really am proud to be part of the wonderful resort of Seaton."

Seaton's mayor, Councillor Gaynor Sedgwick, said: "I am so pleased that following the success of the town criers competition held in Seaton, David Craner went on to win the prestigious Devon County Champion competition in Newton Abbott.

"David is a great ambassador for Seaton and we are proud that he is considered to be the best town crier in Devon."

Tributes paid to D-Day veteran George

by Kevin Fahey

D-DAY veteran George Hookings was given an emotional farewell at Beer Congregational Church last week (September 22nd).

Mr Hookings, who had celebrated his 90th birthday last month and recently took part in the hugely successful World War I commemorations in Beer, died peacefully last week after being taken to the Royal Devon & Exeter Hospital.

His daughter, Sarah Leighton-Fry, said: "Dad wanted to make it to his 90th birthday and he was really pleased to do that. He lived a very full life."

Born and bred in Beer, Hookings went to the local primary school and then Colyton Grammar before enlisting into the British Army as a 16-year-old in 1940 – which was two years under the minimum limit.

Initially Hookings joined the Devon & Dorset Regiment but was transferred – along with several other men from the regiment – to the Black Watch after they suffered heavy losses fighting in North Africa.

When recently interviewed by Pulman's View on the 70th anniversary of the D-Day Landings Hookings modestly recalled those momentous days in the nation's history.

"I was in the first boat on our beach but was I frightened? – not in the least," said George, who was just 19 at the time.

"You didn't think about it. You just did your job."

"Of course, being shot at and shelled made you aware of your own mortality and the awful things you saw stay with you throughout your life."

After the end of the war George returned to Beer and completed his teacher training at Exeter College and later worked as Headmaster at Neston Primary School, Wiltshire.

When his first wife Mary died, George moved back to the seaside village and married childhood sweetheart Madge who was in his class at school.

"My life had gone full circle and what a lucky life I had," explained George in that earlier interview.

"I will never forget my war experience but it would have been nice just to have been a teacher all my life."

He spent some time in a care home before returning home to Beer as he moved in with his daughter and son-in-law Matthew.

He leaves behind a second daughter, Jennifer Jones, four grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Council promise on pavement repair

A SEATON resident's attempts to have a pavement maintained appears to have had some success.

Pulman's View recently reported that Sid Pember had drawn a blank in his attempts to have a stretch of pavement along Valley View seen to by Devon County Council (DCC).

Mr Pember said at the time: "I have noticed a vast deterioration of the surface on a section of pavement, approximately 50 metres in length, that lies between entrances to Seaton Primary School and the busy site that includes the doctors' surgery and Lloyd's chemist."

The county council said: "There are currently no defects present that would be classified as a safety hazard and necessitate immediate intervention."

The officer in question added that work will be carried out at some point, but could not say when. But Mr Pember has since received assurances that the problem will be dealt with within this financial year.

Seaton county councillor Jim

Knight has written to Mr Pember, telling him: "This is one of several sites awaiting repair and will be completed this financial year."

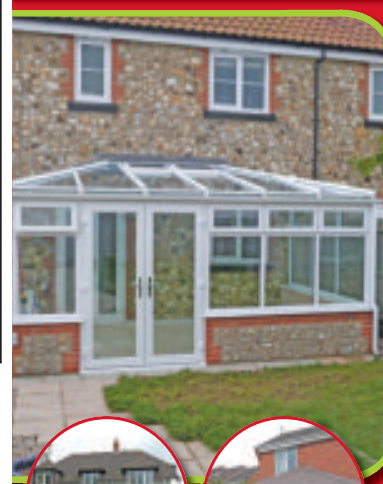

Mr Pember was relatively happy, and told Pulman's View: "I feel more confident after receiving this letter from councillor Jim Knight, and have thanked him for his involvement with the problem."

"The only concern is that we do not have a severe winter setting in before the surface has been repaired."

'Seaton is not a theme park'

I READ with dismay in this week's newspaper about the proposal to build two stainless steel waves at Fisherman's Gap in Seaton. I then read in the Mid-week Herald that two further "hotspots" are proposed for Axmouth harbour and Seaton Hole.

Who comes up with these ideas and who authorises the expense of designers and planning applications? Why were the residents of Seaton not consulted? This is the first I have heard about the proposal.

The article by Anders Larsson suggests the public can comment on EDDC's website but it would have been helpful to have given the planning application number 14/1897. It took me several phone calls to EDDC before I was able to access the information on line.

I have to agree with councillors Val Christmas and Tony Woodman and strongly oppose this. Seaton has a beautiful panoramic coastal view and harbour. The Jurassic Centre is one thing but Seaton is not a theme park.

Our neighbouring more popular resorts look down their noses when you mention Seaton. I say it is a lovely place to live but could 'tacky' become a new description for the resort?

C. HARDING
Seaton

'Ridiculous sculptural concept'

REMEMBERING the last farce over a Seaton sea front sculpture, I am left wondering what the metallic waves will bring through Fisherman's Gap.

It could hardly be called a "gateway to the town", unless fronting at least a mooring pier and the simplistic wording on them is hardly worth a gateway statement.

At least we have two councillors who have a grasp of the power of the sea and doubtless the corrosive effects of salt water.

This is a ridiculous sculptural concept that only has one positive thing going for it... the hawk-like wave tips may do a better job of scaring off the seagulls than the hawk that pops along from time to time to sit on a lamp post by The Hook and Parrot.

TONY HILL

Fisherman's Gap plans 'a waste of money'

WITH regards to Fisherman's Gap proposal: a complete and utter load of rubbish and waste of money.

We've had statues on the centre of the roundabout, until people caused such an uproar and got it removed.

Over the years our town has been ruined with so many goes at regeneration. Beer has much more going for it, as tiny as it is.

In the past we had Marine weeks with Newfoundland dogs doing their stuff, wonderful, and raft races on the sea. All we have now are cars on the front year after year.

The only time you are aware of carnival week is when the hard working people put on a show with their floats and these days there are so many rules it's quite hard for them.

Where will local patients be treated?

I HAVE been appalled at the news that, in effect, Ottery St Mary hospital might be closed.

It has been admitted that the proposed changes are unlikely to save money, the usual reason for closing down valuable Ottery facilities.

However, as no costs have been revealed, it is probable that the expenses of treating people in their own homes will be higher and that nurses, inevitably, will be less productive.

Furthermore, it cannot be assumed that all patients can be treated at home. The Royal and Devon Exeter hospital has little or no spare capacity, so where will these unfortunate local residents be treated?

We are also told that we must adapt our health services to prepare for a demographic explosion.

We know that people are living longer but the fact that Ottery's population is expected to expand by a quarter in the near future, surely, suggests that there could be an increase in the demand for hospital beds in Ottery or are all the newcomers going to enjoy perfect health?

When I see the word "uneconomic" in any report on health, I recoil.

If I ever need specialised care, am I supposed to want to go to a more distant hospital, as that is more economic?

Am I alone in thinking that people who conjure up these reports can calculate costs, even if they don't reveal them, but they are ignorant on the value of what they are destroying?

PHILIP ALGAR
West Hill, Ottery St Mary

Letters from surrounding parishes are just as important

I REFER to the headlines in last weeks View from Honiton and would like to respond as an individual town councillor.

Honiton Town Councillors are elected or co-opted to represent electors. We all receive letters from electors who lobby us with strong views. It is a key role of councillors to listen to people with views other than our own in order to inform our decision making.

Councillor Taylor, who lives in Feniton, complains about having letters from a resident of Buckereil. We need to recognise that Honiton serves a large rural area and although those living out of town do not pay Honiton Community Charge, they depend on the services that the town provides and deserve to be heard.

Letters to councillors and the attendance at council meetings of Honiton residents and those from surrounding parishes should be welcomed and not complained about.

Concerns over plans for overspill car park

AS a concerned citizen of Seaton I wish to draw to the attention of your readers the intention of East Devon Council to build a £300k 70 space "overspill" car park to serve the Jurassic Coast Visitors Centre.

In principle I agree with the possible need for an overspill car park to serve the centre, but I have some concerns. One being the location on "amenity land" and if the car park was to be built three fine specimens of poplar trees, which greet anybody entering Seaton would be sawn down. Surely the poplars could be incorporated into the proposed scheme?

Tesco should be ashamed

RE: Tesco stores refused licence for gaming machines, September 9th issue.

In my opinion Tesco stores should be utterly ashamed of themselves for even contemplating the installation of gaming machines in their staff canteens.

Are Tesco now so short of a penny that they have to try to snatch some back from their staff while they eat their lunch?

Tesco should also keep in mind that they employ quite a lot of teenagers on a part-time basis at weekends and during the school holidays. Surely Tesco should have a duty of care to these young employees and not be putting the temptation of gambling under their noses. One cannot expect the suppliers of these machines to have a conscience; they are, after all, in the business of making money from people's weakness and addiction to gambling.

Tesco of course is also in business and looking to make money where it can, but to bring in gaming machines for their staff canteens is sinking to the lowest level.

Make your voice heard

ON behalf of the GP's in Seaton we would like to encourage as many people as possible to contribute to the public consultation on the future of the community hospitals and community services in East Devon.

NEW Devon CCG are holding a public consultation on Tuesday, September 23rd in Seaton Town Hall at which you can hear what is being proposed, ask questions and contribute to the discussion.

The decisions being made over the next few months will affect everyone in East Devon for years to come so now is the time to make your opinions heard.

Thanks, but no thanks!

I NOTE with some dismay the front page report (View September 16th) regarding the proposed "Waves" Hotspot at Fisherman's Gap in Seaton, which seems to me to be an entirely inappropriate structure given its design and location.

My family have lived in Seaton for over 40 years so I know the town well from the early 1970s, when we had a holiday camp instead of an unwanted supermarket. In all that time I have never seen anyone that seems to truly represent the wishes of Seaton residents. Certainly in my experience the town council never has, and the EDDC have a long held dislike of Seaton, because we are prepared to challenge their decisions. There was an outfit once called "Stand Up For Seaton" (SU4S) which seems to have disappeared.

As Councillor Tony Woodman quite rightly pointed out "This isn't Disneyland, this is Seaton". Moreover we are part of the Jurassic Coast, a famous World Heritage Site, and to demean its status in this way is quite unacceptable. The sculptress may well feel that her creation sends a message, but our message back is thanks, but no thanks!

Hurrah, dogs can now go on the beach!

WHAT a joyless letter from M Bowers. The people with dogs had, God forbid, cool boxes and bags of picnic food – how extraordinary.

When you read of the real horrors that are happening on this planet, I can't help but sigh when we get constant whingeing about little things in our local papers.

On a more happy note, those of us locals who have spent all summer walking on the pavement with our dogs to get to the harbour can now walk on the beach or the esplanade. Hurrah.

Best of luck to Steve & Marie

ESTABLISHED printing business Steves Print has recently undergone a change of ownership, after its previous owner finally passed on the keys to a fresh new couple.

Following 20 successful years at the head of the business, based in Fore Street, Seaton, former owner Steve Northcott has handed over the reins to Marie and Terry Churchill.

The couple set their hearts on the business earlier this year when Steve revealed his plans to retire, and the new owners hope to bring some fresh ideas to the long-established shop.

Marie was employed at the print shop a few years ago, and after a spell working as a designer for a local newspaper, she said returning to the business was like coming home.

She said: "Terry and I are very excited about taking on this new challenge and are looking forward to many more successful years ahead for Steves Print."

"We are not looking to make any major changes as Steve has built up a very good, well-established reputation."

"But we are hoping to bring some fresh ideas to the table; to breathe a new lease of life into the business."

The husband and wife team will continue to be supported by experienced designer Julie Malone who has been with the company for six years and the trio intend to make sure that three is the magic number.

"We will be paying particular attention to building our online presence with an up and coming new website plus pages on Facebook and Twitter."

There is a great team of experienced graphic designers providing a back drop for an instant and efficient copying service, at the front of the shop.

They are ready to work with the customer to create unique individual designs tailored for their needs. Whether a business card or a full colour brochure, the same attention to detail is given, achieving great results.

They can print anything from a book to a personalised greeting card and if you need it quickly they will try their best to get everything ready for when you need it.

Printers & Stationers

FOR one day every year the village of Colyford steps back to medieval times, everybody dresses up in the fashions of the Middle Ages and hundreds of people travel from miles around to come to look at what on Earth is going on.

It is like a scene out of Chaucer. There's archery and falconry and shows of thatching and bodging [that's wood-turning using green, unseasoned wood]. Medieval music played on traditional instruments echoes through the lanes and the locals gather to perform a humorous Mummers Play.

And just like it would be here several hundred years ago, stalls sell honey, pottery, leather goods and beer and queue for the ram-roast.

What is it? It's the Colyford Goose Fayre, a fine revival of old England and the continuing of a tradition that goes all the way back to 1208.

It was then that King John granted Colyford a charter to hold a goose fair, originally a market for selling livestock which developed into a day or so of merry-making.

Goose fairs are always held in the autumn. In Colyford, the fayre is traditionally staged on the last Saturday closest to Michaelmas – September 27th this year, as Michaelmas falls on September 29th.

Why September? The breeding season for geese is February to March, meaning that by September the young geese were at their prime and ready to be got to market. There being no tram in Pliny's or King John's day, the poulters would simply walk them to the fair.

This was no easy task. Besides the fact that there could be many geese to walk on – at one Nottingham fair, 20,000 geese were recorded strolling into the city – in medieval times a goose fair could be leagues away, records of the time show that geese were frequently walked from Norfolk to London, a sore-making foot trip of more than 80 miles.

For the poor old goose, such a long march was hard on the feet and many would become injured. So they made them shoes, little tar shoes. I am not making this up. The poulters would 'shoe a goose' by driving them through tar and then sawdust, providing a protective layer or 'shoe' for the long walk.

Of course, the tar would wear off if the geese had far to go – hence the expression 'you can't shoe a goose', meaning a futile exercise. However, in Ilchester in Somerset in the Middle Ages there were goose cobblers [I'm not making this up either] who more kindly made little leather goose slippers to make the hike more bearable.

Fortunately, in these kinder days the geese at the Colyford Goose Fayre don't have far to come and tend to be carried in a old cart that forms part of the procession which traditionally parades through the village at 2pm, shortly before the Mayor opens the Fayre.

Last year the Fayre was rained off by atrocious weather, so watch the skies. But with a spot of luck all will be fine this year for visitors to enjoy the goose-step back in time.

Seaton Tramway will be putting on additional trams to Colyford during the afternoon so visitors can arrive in style.

For details of the Fayre, visit the website at www.colyfordvillage.co.uk

ALL the fun of a Medieval Fayre and during the afternoon there will be various demonstrations of traditional Country Crafts such as Beekeeping, Spinning, Hurdle Making, Armoury, Falconry, Wood Turning and Archery.

As you wander along with the strolling players and the Woodroffe Early Music Group, test your Circus Skills, try your hand at Skittling, ride the Quintain or just fight it out on the Greasy Pole. Along from the Forge and Cider Press you will find a variety of farm animals and look out for Sutton House Living History and their Fighting Knights.

In addition to the ever popular Ram Roast, food stalls will include pancakes, traditional sweetmeats, pies, home-made cakes, biscuits and preserves and of course there the ever popular plant and herbs 'n' potions stalls.

Finally quench your thirst on Cider and Ale or visit the marquee where Afternoon Tea will be served.

JACK WARD is a man with many irons in the fire. He is a full-time student, works at Flamingo Pool in Axminster and he also performs as a magician. In addition, he is this week's 60 seconds guest.

● WHERE were you born and where did you grow up ?

I was born in Exeter in 1994 and spent the first eight years of my life living in Axminster's Woodbury Park and Fox-hill. Since then my family and I moved to Chardstock and have been here ever since!

COMMUNITY PRIMARY SCHOOL
Stoney Lane, Axminster, Devon EX13 5BU
Tel. 01297 33005

Axminster Community Primary School is considering a proposal to join with three other schools to form a group of Academies

We would welcome the views of our local community and would like to invite anyone with an interest to a meeting in order to give out more information and to hear your views on Tuesday 30th September at 7pm in our School Hall

● WHERE and what do you study?

I am about to start my second year of a foundation degree in sports development and coaching at the small university center in Yeovil. This has enabled me to still live locally and keep all my various jobs on the go!

● HOW long have you worked at Flamingo Pool, and what do you do there?

I've been at the pool for roughly three and a half years now. I started just as a lifeguard when I was 16 but have since completed my level 1 and 2 qualifications in swim teaching, which has let me teach private and group swimming lessons as well as teaching the rookie lifeguard program with some other colleagues.

Recently I have also been given some duty management hours.

● WHAT do you enjoy about magic?

I started to take magic seriously when I was 14. My Dad and I decided to buy a set that came all the way from America and since then I've been hooked. At the age of 16 I created my first load of business cards and I began being hired out for a variety of events such as weddings, business and corporate events. This led to me using social media to help advertise myself as well as creating my own website.

Please visit www.jackwardmagic.co.uk for more information

● WHAT prompted you to become a magician?

At first it began as just a hobby and gave me something to do. However, due to my location, it gave me something to work on and keep me occupied. The more I practiced it got to the point where I wanted to see if I could get a reaction from people that weren't in my family. Thankfully it paid off and I have received bookings ever since. I still remember my first ever booking at Axminster

Primary School for my old headteacher's surprise birthday party. I think what still interests me most is the fact that every single person reacts differently.

Looking back, my magic has helped me to develop and become more confident in myself, which I am very grateful for.

● WHERE do you see yourself in 10 years' time?

In 10 years' time I would like to think that I still live locally, my sensible job option would be becoming a sports teacher or to be in the leisure industry. However, in the unlikely event my magic takes off, my dream job would be doing that full time.

● WHICH is your favourite holiday destination?

My favourite holiday destination would have to be Florida. I was lucky enough to go there this year with my girlfriend Jenna and her family. It was two weeks of sun, water parks and roller coasters, which is my kind of holiday. It was very full on but something that I will never forget!

● WHAT'S your favourite food?

I'm more than happy to eat anything as long as it's not sweetcorn from a tin. Choosing a favorite meal is difficult because there's too much to choose from, definitely all the classics, though, like ham egg and chips or a good old steak.

● WHAT makes you happy?

The simple things in life make me happy, such as spending time with my family and friends, or just going on a good day out.

● WHAT makes you angry?

It takes a lot to get me angry, but I think the thing that annoys me most is people who don't realise how lucky they actually are when, in the grand scheme of things, there's more in life to worry about.

● IF you won an absurd amount of money, how would you spend it?

The first thing on my list would be to buy a lovely big house. I would also take all my family on a massive holiday and treat each of them to something nice.

ST Gregory's Parish Church, Seaton, have been very glad to return to their former venue at the church centre, now that refurbishment is complete. This they were able to do on Saturday, for the Freedom Café, followed by 3.2.1 for Jesus. Look out for future dates, and visitors are always welcome.

Sunday, September 21st at the Parish Church, Dunkswell, was the venue for the Service of Thanksgiving for the Battle of Britain 1940 attended by representatives of the RAFA and the ATC with a donation from the collection given to the RAFA Wings Appeal.

The Pope has broken Catholic traditions to perform wedding ceremonies for those who have been married before which is a sign of the openness of his papacy. This comes three weeks before a synod of the Catholic Church is to discuss marriage, divorce, and conception. The church ban on divorcees who have remarried having communion is also topic for debate.

Lambeth Palace London is to be home to a new religious community of people aged between 20 and 25, which will be known as the Community of St Anselm. More details have been published in the Church in England Newspaper. The Community is due to be launched in September 2015 and will consist of 15 full time members with a further 40 people who live and work in London joining part time. A website is being set up asking for volunteers.

FROM Charmouth Primary School to a promising future in Opera - 22 Year old Chloe Stratta will sing the role of the shepherd who heralds the coming of the fatal dawn in Act 3, with the English Opera Ensemble in the forthcoming production of TOSCA, which is being produced by STAG (Shute Theatre and Arts Guild) in Kilminster Church next month. The young soprano will be singing and supporting a dazzling cast of professional singers including Anna Gregory, Dominic Barrand and Michael Bracegirdle, opera stars who's past performances have graced the stages of the Royal Opera House and the Royal Festival Hall.

Chloe graduated from the University of Manchester in July 2013 with a first class bachelor of music degree. She currently studies as a soprano under Ryland Davies and Deborah Rees. During her time in Manchester, Chloe was involved in many concerts as member of the University Chorus, and the University's prestigious chamber choir, with whom she toured to Milan. In July 2014, Chloe sung in the Dorset formed extensively here and abroad as soloists and in chamber groups. Honiton will be giving these leading musicians a very warm welcome.

Opera Chorus for their 40th anniversary productions of Verdi's Aida and Beethoven's Fidelio. Her solo concert work includes Fauré's Requiem, in Exeter Cathedral, Haydn's Creation Mass with Lyme Bay Chorale, and Haydn's Mass in the Time of War, with Sidmouth Choral society, as well as recital work. She looks forward to returning to sing for these groups this Autumn. Chloe grew up in Lyme Regis, and attended Colyton Grammar School, singing in the school choir and chamber choir, directed by David House. She received singing lessons from Brian Manners.

Seaton's first 'Kitchen Concert'

A NEW concept for presenting musical events has come to Seaton, the Kitchen Concert.

Peter Arnold, who has just given up running Jurassic Folk after more than seven years, explains: "House concerts are a well established way of entertaining a small, select audience - in fact in Victorian times they were just about the only way that country gentry and their friends could enjoy live music, and the musical soirée was a high note in their diaries. Nowadays they are particularly prevalent on the continent," continues Peter, "ours is an innovation, because rather than in a reception room, it will take place in the kitchen, and so we call it a Kitchen Concert".

Peter and his wife Hilary, in whose domain the kitchen firmly resides, are very thrilled to have been able to book for this first evening one of the country's funniest musical artists, Fake Thackray.

In the guise of Fake Thackray, John Watterson presents the rise, demise and songs of the late, great, Jake Thackray. Jake's songs are exquisitely funny, satirical, incisive, irreverent, witty and gloriously un-PC - and sometimes all of these at the same time. Jake was a one off; his poetry broke the rules yet worked beautifully. He was a true craftsman of the English language, and his legacy of scores of wonderful songs continues to entertain and delight audiences of all ages today.

Spaces are limited, and there are only a limited number of places left. Tickets are £20 - to book call Peter or Hilary on 01297 20064. Easy parking, free nibbles and soft drinks are available (bring your own choice of alcohol, glasses provided).

The first kitchen concert takes place on Saturday, September 27th at 7.45pm.

Beehive's first Art Exhibition is open now

Absent Abbey 1201 - 1549 will run until October 17th at the Honiton venue

THE Beehive in Honiton launched its first Art Exhibition on Monday, September 8th.

"Absent Abbey 1201 - 1549" Is a selection of works by seven local artists who spent two years studying the historical records and physical remains of nearby Dunkeswell Abbey.

Each artist chose their own approach, and the result is a fascinating assembly of work which tells both personal and historical stories. These stories include the architecture and building of the Abbey and the journeys taken by the first monks as they headed for Dunkeswell from Forde

Abbey along ancient track ways. Further tales are told of plants and herbs associated with the Abbey and tracing the descendants of the Norman founders family to the present day. A general theme is an attempt to imagine what life would have been like as a monk in those far-off times.

The artists belong to the Radicle Group which is based at the studio of Camilla Nock RWA, in the Blackdown Hills. The main body of work is concerned with the natural and man-made landscapes in the area. These are interpreted in contemporary and imaginative ways with the group working on common themes together and with individual work.

The Exhibition continues until October 17th. Admission is free and everyone is most welcome to wander in for a look around.

Orchestral Concert in the Joanna Leach Hall at the Beehive Honiton

The 60 players of Roger Hendy's ISCA Ensemble will be gathering for their first concert at the Beehive on the 4th October at 7.30pm

The concert has been organised in association with the Joanna Leach Foundation and is being given in memory of Liz Tirard the Foundation's dynamic Company Secretary and Honiton Town Councillor who died in January this year.

The programme of popular works includes Dvorak's 'New World' Symphony and the challenging Brahms Violin Concerto in D major, to be played by the young virtuoso violinist, Emmanuel Bach.

Emmanuel, after playing many charitable engagements and recently completing his university degree - a double first in music - is now embarking upon a soloist career; his first professional engagement with the ISCA Ensemble.

Says Roger Hendy: "I had been introduced to Emmanuel's playing and had been impressed on hearing a recording. But when I heard him play at a JL Foundation recital where he was most ably accompanied by Jenny Stern, I was literally 'blown away' by his musical commitment, presence and the virtuosic performance of some extremely difficult pieces".

Mike Beville (trustee of the JLF):

"It was Liz, being a friend of Roger's, who made the connection and it seemed to be so appropriate to support the orchestra by covering the soloist's fee. Our trustees are very impressed by the work Roger and his orchestral players do to keep classical music alive in the area. In keeping with our aim of encouraging professionals to work with amateurs, we have offered to fund a soloist each year to play with the orchestra".

Emmanuel Bach

Emmanuel began the violin at the age of five and is currently studying with Natasha Boyarsky. He has performed in Britain as both a soloist and chamber musician in venues including the Leeds International Concert Series, the Wigmore Hall (for which he was kindly loaned a 1711 Gobetti violin by Peter Biddulph), and St John's Smith Square, and has also given concerts in France and Italy. Emmanuel recently toured South Africa, where he gave solo recitals and played Bruch's Scottish Fantasy at multiple venues with the Pretoria University Orchestra under Eric Rycroft. His performances of this work at the 2011 National Arts Festival in Oudtshoorn led to him being nominated for the Upcoming Artist Award. This year, he performed the Khatchaturian Violin Concerto with the Oxford Philomusica in the final of their concerto competition, in which he was runner-up.

Chamber music also forms a key part of Emmanuel's life and he has received coaching from members of the Wihan, Elias, Skampa and Allegri Quartets. Emmanuel regularly gives recitals together with his mother, the pianist Jenny Stern, and is due to perform with her alongside the Tagore String Trio in a concert later this year.

The ISCA Ensemble

The Ensemble comprises experienced amateur and a few former professional players. Dr. Antony Clements is the leader of the Ensemble. He has worked with Roger for many years. Thanks to him and the players, the orchestra continues to receive much critical acclaim.

Square & Compass

A very relaxed, elegant wedding with very, very good food

THERE has been an inn at Windmill Hill for around 200 years and it is part of the fabric of the area. The Square and Compass is now a well-known hotel, renowned for excellent food. Owners, Chris and Janet Slow have been resident for 17+ years and in this time they have built up a reputation for very good food and drink. Run in a relaxed, informal manner, you can enjoy a drink, some food, or celebrate a special occasion in the Barn, a separate venue behind the Square and Compass.

The Barn

Set in its own spacious gardens, the Barn is completely separated from the Inn and Stables Hotel rooms and is a very popular venue for weddings. Full of rustic charm with heavy wooden tables, chairs and careful lighting, it is decorated with a rural theme and can hold up to 250 people.

The informal atmosphere that gives the Square and Compass its special charm extends to the Barn, allowing you to relax during your special occasion knowing that every detail has been planned exactly to your needs beforehand so the whole day runs seamlessly. We are absolutely committed to making your day as perfect as we possibly can.

The Barn's rustic appearance belies modern facilities. There is a dance area and stage with a powerful sound system and lighting set up. There is also a fully licensed bar, modern toilets and disabled access in all areas. The Barn has a civil license for weddings, with the large gardens surrounded by fields making a truly beautiful setting. We built the Barn using old-fashioned materials, specifically for weddings. We think it is the perfect venue for your special day.

The Barn is a little more than 5 minutes from Junction 25 of the M5 at Taunton and likewise from the A303 at Ilminster. Although set in pleasant rural surroundings, it is easily accessible with full facilities available for business meetings, exhibitions and corporate events.

The speciality of our weddings is that the whole day revolves around an exceptionally good quality, generous meal in the afternoon, prepared and cooked by a team of highly professional chefs led by Janet, one of the owners. 'We find that if the food is really good everything else slots into place' says Chris. In 2005 we demolished the old pub kitchens and invested £100,000 in a state of the art catering kitchen.

The Shrubbery Hotel

THE Shrubbery Hotel, Ilminster established from 1932 as the community hotel for Ilminster and South Somerset. Professional management and experienced staff will help to make your perfect day. The hotel stands in its own grounds with car parking for 60 plus cars, and offers a wide selection of menus and prices to suit all pockets. Reception from 30 to 200, evening parties for 350.

With a full civil licence, why not have all your wedding in one establishment.

21 3 * bedrooms all en suite.

Easy access from the M5 or A303, the location of the hotel is at once relaxing and vital.

The hotel is being completely refurbished, and is offering special rates from early spring 2015.

Our menus reflect modern flair with old fashioned style. With stunning views over the South Somerset countryside, make THE SHRUBBERY your first choice.

West of England Laser Centre

Moles, sunspots and other blemishes

THE West of England Laser Centre situated at Nuffield Health Taunton Hospital, can treat these plus other skin conditions by laser.

Sun spots and freckles – sometimes known as 'liver' or 'age' spots – exist where the body collects more pigment, called melanin. For removal of moles, short bursts of high laser light are applied, thus removing precise layers of superficial skin layer by layer until the lesion is significantly diminished/no longer visible. The precision of modern-day lasers minimises risks of scarring – unlike the older version lasers of the past.

Also available is laser removal of: facial thread veins, warts, veruccas, "blood spots", excess hair and tattoos. In addition various injection treatments are used to smooth away fine facial lines and/or to add volume and definition, eg. to the lips. Baggy eyelid problems can also be solved at the centre by a minor surgical procedure.

Our website at www.welc.co.uk provides details on all our treatments. For further information or to book a consultation please telephone 01823 331773 or e-mail us at lasercentre@lineone.net.

Styles and trends: lace wedding dresses

LACE is an eternally beautiful material for wedding dresses, and it's a style that has lasted for centuries in the fashion world. It's a favourite amongst designers worldwide, its reputation huge. And it's not hard to see why!

Wedding Dress Fashion Trends

Lace seems to be everywhere, and the biggest designers are using it all over the world. They have been for years! Its regard may in part be due to the fine craftsmanship that is handmade lace, but the popularity of the white lace wedding dress is often attributed to Queen Victoria's marriage to Prince Albert in her lace-trimmed gown, train, and veil. Celebrities really help to push the reputation of this fine material—just look at Grace Kelly, whose wedding dress is famed in the fashion world. Now lace is everywhere, from bridalwear to wedding decoration.

Lace features in many of the trends for next year, most prominently with the likes of nude lace. The design acts as a bit of an optical illusion that may, for some, seem a little bit racy. But it gives some absolutely beautiful effects, and a look like that of old vintage.

Being a very traditional, flattering material, lace is wonderful for a vintage or art deco wedding. It really adds a pretty elegance to the wearer, and with the ornate designs available right across the material, you can get any number of beautiful finishes to the dress. Open backs seem to be a big trend for next year, and lace can really set off that effect. Also bohemian gowns and tea length dresses really run with lace, giving some of the most stunning designs.

Choosing the Right Material

If you're worried a full-lace wedding dress isn't for you however, don't fret! You can still get that spark of vintage with lace sleeves, shoes, a cloak, jacket or bolero, or a belt, veil or a hairpiece. Perhaps even a handkerchief or a pair of gloves? Lace is a very flexible material to work with; with it, you can get any number of styles: chic or floaty, grand or unadorned. You may even consider some appliqué work, where bits of lace are stitched by hand to parts of the dress in order to accent it. Don't be afraid to try out different colours either—ivory lace on a white dress, or white on pale pink or blue-silver? Brides are no longer going after the classic white wedding. Feel free to shake it up!

Choose your lace carefully, as it can come in many forms and give any number of stunning effects—some is denser and heavier with deep patterns, some is lighter and softer, its design delicate. And then there is even lace decorated with beads and sequins, crystals, gems and pearls, and these really echo the fashion of the Roaring Twenties or the Victorian era. Research thoroughly by perhaps keeping a scrapbook of the materials you like, and the dress designs you love, and be careful when it comes to buying your dress/accessories. There are many cheap knock-offs in the world so it's advised that you seek professional advice on what to look for when buying your items. Of course, not all of the cheaper lace is a bad thing, for when it's done right it can really suit a bride on a budget and still look magnificent.

Fiona Neylan Millinery

MILLINERY has been in my family since 1917, originating with my Grandmother, Gladys Falloon, and my Mother, Elaine Reid and my Aunt, Sheila Ferris. My Grandmother sailed from Ireland in 1917 to Liverpool, age 17, to train as a Milliner.

I am the third generation of Milliners in my family, and whilst growing up, in Oxfordshire, I learned a lot about hats and headwear from these family members. My Grandmother, had a shop in High Wycombe in the 1930's and '40's, and then a shop in Henley-on-Thames, which my Mother and Aunt mainly ran. Being by the River Thames, ladies would come and buy hats for Henley Royal Regatta, and for Ascot, nearby and also for weddings and other occasion wear. Over the years I learned a lot of useful tips about hats. We often went to the Henley Regatta and it was a great day out of course, and My mother would often help me find a hat from the shop and then we'd add something to it or adapt it in some way to personalise it.

After A' levels and a gap year, I went to Cheltenham Art College, and did a Foundation course and a Degree in Sculpture, Fine Art, followed by a Steiner Education course. I hadn't thought about going into Millinery yet. It wasn't until some years later, after I'd had children that my interest in hats was re-kindled. After finding a box of beautiful vintage fur felt hat hoods (hat material before it is shaped) from the Henley shop, after Mum had retired, I decided to find a short course on Traditional fur felt hat blocking techniques. I found the perfect course for me ran by Tina Guintini from London, who was tutoring in Frome, Somerset at the time. I learned traditional steaming and blocking techniques and how to shape and make a hat from start to finish.

I now have a Hat Studio in the Vintage Quarter in St Michael's Trading Estate, (Studio 12), where I design and make hats in felt, fur felt, wool, cashmere, straw and sinamay and some bridal and Occasion headwear. Each hat is individually styled and decorated.

I also up-cycle some hats to revive them if they are a little tired. I have some specially selected hats and accessories of quality. Design to add to my collection. The accessories tend to be shawls and scarves, and some Fair-trade Baskets and Parasols, to protect your hat from the weather, rain or shine!!

And to complement your look, I also have Botanical, Natural and Organic skincare and make-up that is all Pure, Safe and Beneficial, and Nutritionals to enhance health and beauty from within.

Come and see me in my Hat Studio at Unit 10, Studio 12, St Michael's Trading Estate, Bridport, DT6 3RR- Wed, Fri and Sat until 4 pm mostly or call on 07905999437 or e-mail: hats@fionaneylan.co.uk to make an appointment.

Wedding nails are the perfect complement to your bridal look...You've got the ring, the veil and the bouquet, now all you need are picture-perfect hands

The nail shape

MAKE sure that your nails are groomed from the minute you get engaged. Once you are engaged, you want to be careful not to compete with your engagement ring in any pictures, so it's best to keep the nails short and round.

The nail shades

Soft pinks and nude beige shades look chic and subtle. Try finding a shade that is closest to your skin tone ensures the polish won't compete with your beautiful engagement and wedding rings in pictures.

The longevity

You can get the most of your manicure when you apply very thin coats, letting the polish dry in between each layer so the solvents evaporate, it will wear better and last longer. Waiting at least a minute or two between each coat is recommended.

All-New Volvo XC90 R-Design

VOLVO Cars has released the first images of the R-Design version of the all new XC90, aimed at buyers looking for a head-turner that radiates a truly sporty and dynamic look.

"R-Design is created for people with a passion for things that add spice to life," said Alain Visser, Senior Vice President, Marketing, Sales and Customer Service of Volvo Car Group. "It appeals to customers that love active driving and a personal, expressive design. Every single R-Design detail is designed to contribute to the individualistic and refined expression these customers desire."

The visual promise of a dynamic ride is confirmed by the driver-centric interior featuring R-Design Contour sports seats in Nubuck and perforated leather. A choice of Drive-E powertrains offering up to 400 hp and the completely new XC90 chassis ensure an agile driving experience.

The release of the R-Design follows Volvo's release of 1,927 individually numbered black First Edition XC90's which were offered for sale exclusively online and sold out in 47 hours.

Distinctive R-Design detailing

The R-Design exterior includes a number of distinguishing details, such as grille, front spoiler, silk metal window surround, integrated dual exhausts, integrated silver roof rails and silver matt mirror covers. 20-inch R-Design alloy wheels complete the stylish, dynamic look.

Inside, gearshift paddles, plus the Contour sports seats and perforated leather steering wheel and gearshift knob are accompanied by special R-Design details, such as sports seats, pedals, floor mats and illuminated tread plates. The driver also gets an exclusive R-Design leather key remote control.

Tablet-like touch screen

The tablet-like touch screen in the centre and a 12.3-inch fully graphical driver display are of course included in the R-Design. The driver display also features a unique R-Design theme. The heart of the all-new in-car control is virtually button free and represents an entirely new way for drivers to operate their car and access a range of Internet and cloud based products and services.

New trim level strategy

The core of the new XC90 range will be the Momentum model. Above this sits two separate branches – for a sports-inspired look and feel, the R-Design offers exclusive features and design detailing. Meanwhile, for an elegant look and an even more luxurious experience, customers can opt for the richly equipped Inscription model.

C4 Cactus Airflow 2l Concept

FACED with environmental requirements and economic pressures, many customers today see fuel consumption as a key concern. As a result, Citroën is applying its creativity and technology to a new challenge with the C4 Cactus AIRFLOW 2L concept, which will be unveiled at the Paris Motor Show.

A laboratory for new ideas, the C4 Cactus AIRFLOW 2L is packed with advanced technologies that illustrate the ambition and ability of the brand to develop innovative responses to the automotive challenges of the present and the future.

With the C4 Cactus AIRFLOW 2L concept, Citroën delivers breakthrough fuel consumption of 2l/100 km (over 141mpg).

The birth of the C4 Cactus AIRFLOW 2L concept

The C4 Cactus AIRFLOW 2L project was undertaken as part of the "2l/100 km vehicle" programme set up by the Plateforme de la Filière Automobile industry group in France. The objective is to reduce the impact of vehicle running costs on household expenditure and to reduce the eco-footprint of car travel.

Citroën decided to progress this project using its newest model, the C4 Cactus. With this vehicle, the brand has made a commitment to bring customers more of what really matters today: more design, more comfort and more useful technology, combined with an affordable cost of ownership. More than any other vehicle, the C4 Cactus lends itself to this ambitious exercise – to develop a very low consumption, high-tech concept that is both efficient and attractive.

The Citroën C4 Cactus AIRFLOW 2L Concept

With its smooth design lines, efficient engines and technologies selected to reduce vehicle weight, the production Citroën C4 Cactus already boasts a range of features designed to reduce fuel consumption.

With the C4 Cactus AIRFLOW 2L concept, Citroën is taking this approach even further.

Hybrid Air technology for breakthrough fuel consumption

With the brand's latest-generation Euro 6 engines, the production C4 Cactus already ranks among the best in its segment with CO2 emissions from 82g/km and fuel consumption starting at just 91.1mpg.

East Devon football round-up

Tigers claw back win in cup thriller Leaders Honiton slug it out in eight goal draw

SOUTH-WEST PENINSULA LEAGUE

Walter C.Parson cup R1 (east) Alphington 3 Axminster Town 4

AXMINSTER Town came from 3-0 behind on Saturday to book a second round home tie against Witheridge.

Amazingly all eight goals came after the half-time interval.

The hosts then surged ahead with three goals in a second-half purple patch.

But the Tigers, under the gaze of their new management team of Keith Somers and Pete Knox, rolled up their sleeves and battled back with solo efforts from Gary Spiller and Sam Dibbling with a Ben Turner header sandwiched in between to level at 3-3.

Former Millwey Rise man Brad-Lee Miller then netted the Tigers winner with a well-placed shot into the corner.

Somers gave his star men award to Spiller and Ben Vine.

AXMINSTER: S.Wells-Burr, S.Burrough, M.Knight, G.Mcauley, G.Warren, B.Vine, B.Turner, B.Miller, C.Garrett, A.Wheatley, S.Dibbling. Used subs: G.Spiller, M.Hewer.

Next up for the Tigers is Saturday's trip to Liverton United.

Cullompton Rangers 3 Sidmouth Town 1

SIDMOUTH welcomed back Top scorer Mark Pavey and Captain Josh French for this cup encounter against Cullompton who are sitting in the top four in the Peninsula Premier League.

Cullompton bossed the early exchanges and only some terrific goal keeping from Charlie Ledger and defensive work from Mike Pidgeon and Matt Colson kept the home side out.

However, Sidmouth should have taken the lead in the 25th minute when Pavey dragged his shot wide when one on one with the keeper and the half finished goal less.

Cullompton stepped up a gear in the second half and Sidmouth soaked up the pressure but they were always a threat on the counter attack. On the hour Pavey broke th deadlock with a fine chip from 25 yards.

The hosts levelled in the 75th minute when a lack of concentration allowed a cross to be bundled into the net.

Five minutes later Ashley Donoghue edged Cully ahead and got their third goal right on full-time as Sidmouth pushed for the equaliser.

SIDMOUTH: Ledger, Dixon, Colson, Pidgeon, Cox, Barker, French, Thompson, Pavey, Howard. Used subs: Ogle, Miller.

Next up for the Vikings is Saturday's visit by Tavistock.

FRESHA DEVON & EXETER with Collin Goodwin

PERRY STREET LEAGUE

FARWAY UNITED were cut adrift at the foot of the Division One table following a 6-3 home defeat at the hands of fellow early season strugglers Pymore.

Pymore were in control at the break with a 4-0 lead.

Also in Division One MILLWEY RISE struck twice early on against newly promoted Luso-Chard and were away and clear at 3-0 at half-time before going on to win 5-3.

Mark Pike (2), Terry Emmett, Joel Seward and Keith Forsythe (pen) scored for the winners.

Liam Rogers (2) and Billy Reed netted for Farway after the interval but were never close to grabbing a point.

A superb team goal was MILLWEY RISE RESERVES' manager Ian Hall's highlight from a 5-3 Division Three defeat at Dowlisch & Donyatt.

A five-man move was rounded off by Matt Beechey who found the top corner. "That sort of thing makes it all worthwhile – the results will come in due course.

Beechey scored another and there was one for Nicky Land.

In the same Division HAWKCHURCH UNITED were left clicking their heels as Barrington Reserves failed to raise a side.

It was a similar story down in Division Four with Misterton Reserves failing to show at FAR Seaton U16s travelled to mid-Devon to face Witheridge.

Witheridge took the lead before Joe Urquhart equalised with a superb goal. But the hosts scored again to lead 2-1 at half time.

After the break Urquhart bagged his second before Cameron Gould to edge Seaton in front at 3-2.

But Witheridge responded to level things up once again but The greens weren't to be denied and Urquhart completed his hat-trick to clinch the win.

Seaton under 9s played two very entertaining games against Sidmouth sides on Saturday, going down 4-1 and 3-2.

The games were closely fought and Seaton competed very well.

The goals from Aaron Hale (2) and Leo Gribble were great examples of the team play that is signalling real progress in their development.

Gribble was outstanding all morning, breaking up play and providing defensive cover all over the pitch while debutant Adam Clinch showed safe hands, great distribution and gelled into the team seamlessly.

Ottery St Mary U9s travelled to Exeter to take on Heavitree & Pinhoe at weekend.

The Otters came out victorious in both games winning, 7-0 and 8-4. Goals came from Freddie Clarke (7), Zach Wilkinson (4), Sam Hatswell (3) and Jack Carpenter.

Luke gets the green light!

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

with Diane Newton

ON Sunday, September 14th Luke Reed was in Weymouth in the Challenge Uk Half Ironman.

Due to a very choppy sea the organisers had to change the swim course to ensure the safety of the athletes. Luckily they didn't shorten the course, so it remained a very tough 1900m which Luke finished in 33:34.

Then onto the Bike around the Roads of Dorset where the wind made for quite a battle. Luke completed the 56-mile course in 2:52:20.

Onto the run and Luke's legs were feeling a bit jaded from the swim and bike but he managed to get stronger as he went on, completing the Half Marathon in 1:35:34. This gave Luke a very pleasing 79th overall out of 775 starters.

Reed was in action again on Sunday in the Langport Triathlon.

The race was marred slightly by the Highways Agency setting up three-way traffic lights on the bike course which made results very interesting with some people losing up to two minutes!

Luke was lucky enough not to be held up and managed to finish 6th overall out of 350 competitors. His splits were 400m pool swim 6:26, 22.5k bike 38:02 and for the tough 5k run, 21:03 giving an overall time of 1:05:31.

On the same day Graham Newton ran the Bristol Half-Marathon.

Ideal running conditions and an attractive route around the dock and river area of Bristol made this an outstanding city run.

Graham did well to finish in 1:32:22 taking more than half a minute off his PB, and coming finishing in first place in the over 60 category and 614th overall out of 15,000 runners.

Champs off to a flier

DEFENDING Champions Otters started where they ended the last winter season with a victory over newly promoted JD Tyres.

The first quarter had started brightly with Otters just edging ahead 9-5.

In the second quarter they took control and with Helen Wright playing well they powered to a 29-7 lead. JD, with Sam Brunsell doing well, could just not find a way back and Otters continued to dominate winning the game 49-13.

The second game saw Hi Q up against summer champions Upplowman.

At quarter time Upplowman were 11-10 ahead, but by half way Hi Q were in front 22-21. The game was nip and tuck with Jaz Chester playing well for Hi Q and Vicky Channings the Upplowman star.

In the third period Upplowman opened up a 30-28 lead only for Hi Q to bounce back to level the game at 34-34.

In Division Two both relegated teams found themselves in action with Signs South West playing Blackdown Ladies and Sidmouth Toucans up against Otter Valley.

With Christina Oyo in fine form at centre the SSW were soon in control and although Louise Crabb worked hard for Blackdown they could never get back into the game after they went 10-1 behind in the first quarter.

From then on Signs scored consistently to finish victors by 38-9.

Toucans just edged in front against Otter Valley to lead 8-7 at half way, before pulling away in the important third period to lead by 17-10.

The final quarter was again goal-for-goal with Toucans winning by 24-16. Louise Neilson was the Sidmouth player of the match whilst Catherine Phillips took the plaudits for Otter Valley.

Results

Division One; Otters 49 JD Tyres 13, Hi Q 34 Upplowman 34.

Division Two; Signs South West 38 Blackdown Ladies 9, Sidmouth Toucans 24 Otter Valley 16.

Sophie polishes off a another title

LOCAL golfer Sophie Keech was given a "wild card" entry, in recognition of her World Ranking, to the recent Polish Junior Championship, part of the World Junior Golf Tournament Series (WJGTS) held in Wroclaw where entries included 55 players from 15 different countries.

Sophie's first round got off to a positive start with a birdie at the hardest ranked par 5, 2nd hole.

She finished the day one over par and a two shot lead in the girls' championship field.

Day two started with a delay due to the course being enveloped by fog.

But the delay had done nothing to dampen Sophie's game as she ended on top of the leader board by six shots.

The pin positions were far tougher on the third and final day and the heavy rain on the previous days meant the course was playing much longer.

However, Sophie birdied the first hole and at halfway was one under for the day and eight shots ahead of the field.

She then birdied both the par 3, 11th and the par 5, 15th. There was a large crowd waiting to cheer her in as champion on the 18th hole with an overall score of 3 under, a hugely impressive margin of 12 shots in the girls' competition.

As the final group in boys' competition came in with a winning score of 2 under, Sophie was declared the overall winner of the Championship.

◆ TOP TWO: Sophie Keech and Boys competition winner Jan Btycka from the Czech Republic.

Third ace for Pat!

THE time was right for a Seaton golfer when he scored a hole-in-one during a recent club competition to be rewarded with a limited-edition BOSS watch as recognition for the achievement.

Pat Purtell, 76, scored his ace on the 110-yard, par-three second at Honiton Golf Club, and the 13-handicapper was rewarded with membership of the exclusive BOSS Watches H1 Club and a specially-commissioned, commemorative timepiece.

He said: "I have been playing golf for 45 years and had never had a hole-in-one, but in 2007 I had a heart bypass operation and six months later, I got my first ace.

Six months after that, I got my second, so this is my third hole-in-one. It's like a bus - when one comes along two more come!"

The scheme is open to any golfer whose club uses HowDidiDo - a free-to-use, web-based social network for golfers - and anybody playing in official club competitions is eligible. Currently, more than 1,800 clubs use the website.

Stephen Brydon, commercial director for MGS Distribution, the official licenced UK distributor for BOSS Watches, said: "Congratulations to Pat on achieving a hole-in-one.

"To the majority of amateur golfers, recording a hole-in-one will be the most memorable thing they achieve in golf - we want to ensure they have much better memories than merely a dent in their bank balance after buying drinks in the clubhouse.

"The exclusive BOSS watch is available only to golfers who record a hole-in-one. We hope it will provide a constant reminder of the achievement."

SEATON with Linda Stone

The summer bowls season is now drawing to a close.

Seaton played its last two friendlies, the first on Monday at CREWKERNE, which we lost 79 - 92 even though the rink of Norman Stone, Ian Manchester, Terry Hurley-Smith and Joan Miles valiantly won by 27 shots to 14. Well done to them.

The last friendly was at LYME REGIS where we returned to our winning ways with a 143 shots to 112 shots victory. Top rink was Angie Mayhew, Doug Hislop, Peter Greenwood and George Mabon.

On Saturday we celebrated a really successful season with a fun game of target bowls.

Each team had to bowl to a target on the rink scoring points according to how close the bowls ended up to the 'gold' centre target.

Dressed in bright colours, and some in fancy dress, a hilarious time was had by all.

At the end of the game the club Captain Pat Whitworth, ably assisted by many of the members, laid on a meal that was much enjoyed by all.

The winning rink of the target game was Peter Grigg, Jasper Chun (a junior member who won his first ever trophy), Graham Thomas and skip Linda Stone, with a magnificent score of 50 points.

Now we look forward to the winter season of short-mat bowls.

On Sunday members stripped out the partitions in the clubhouse that form the changing rooms for the summer and laid down the mats ready for the winter.

Anyone who is interested in joining us through the winter please phone Linda Stone (Club Secretary) on 01297 624237 all would be most welcome.

"We felt that Pete's experience of playing at a high level mixed with Keith's management experience and knowledge of local players was the best fit for our club."

Somers told Pulman's View Sport: "We met club officials on Sunday (September 14th) and were offered the roles the following evening."

"We're obviously both very pleased to take charge in what is a very exciting time for the club."

"After being involved in local football for many years I have had a spell away from the game and was a little dubious about stepping back in."

"But after meeting the club officials and seeing the wonderful new ground that is, all being well, set to be ready early next month, it was an easy decision to make."

I've not been a joint manager before but am looking forward to working with Knoxy. He has a hamstring injury at the moment so will be on the sidelines on Saturday."

Knox, a prison guard who works in Shaftesbury, is hopeful of being available most weeks, "Having talked it through it sounds as if he will be around for 75 per cent of matches" said Somers, who also confirmed that there would be some new faces appearing in the Tigers squad in the near future.

Somers also had a word for former player-manager Gary Mcauley who stepped down from the role at the beginning of the month: "Gary is keen to just play – he a great asset to have, his experience is vital on the field."
